Threads of Time Vol. 1

High school kendo champion Moon Bin Kim suffers from a recurring nightmare in which he lives as Sa Kyung Kim, the son of a prominent warrior family in 13th Century Korea (Koryo). After a freak accident at the school swimming pool Moon Bin falls into a coma, but his modern-day personality resurfaces in the distant past when Sa Kyung revives miraculously after years of unconsciousness. As if being displaced in medieval Koryo isn't enough, Moon Bin finds himself at the very brink of war. From his deathbed Genghis Kahn decreed that Koryo should be conquered. Sali Tayi, the most brutal and feared general of the Mongol army, is appointed to lead the invasion into the peninsula. Opposing him is Moon Bin's 13th Century father, the legendary warlord Kim Kyung-Sohn.

Threads of Time Vol. 2

Using her clever wiles and substantial might, the stunning granddaughter of Genghis Kahn, Atan Hadas, is made second-in-command to the ruthless Sali Tayi. Her first mission is to be sent into the heart of Koryo to gather intelligence on the defensive forces. In the woods near Ghu-Zhu Palace, Moon Bin happens upon the princess while she is bathing in a waterfall, and is smitten immediately by her beauty. At the same time, Kim Kyung-Sohn discovers the true identity of Atan Hadas, and orders her arrest. Unaware that she is a princess and a spy of the enemy, the impetuous Moon Bin helps her escape capture. Returning to Sali Tayi, Atan Hadas learns that a full-scale invasion of Koryo has begun.

Threads of Time Vol. 3

In an all-out assault the Mongol army ravages the northern towns and outposts of the land. With their howling warcries, the invaders cut a bloody swath toward Ghu-Zhu Palace, the stronghold of Koryo's defense. General Sali Tayi offers Koryo an ultimatum: surrender to the devastating ferocity of the Mongol army or go to war with it. With his valor unmoved by the Mongol's threats, Kim Kyung-Sohn upholds a remarkable resistance. Despite facing overwhelming enemy forces, the Koryo palace weathers the storm of a vicious Mongol siege. On the field of battle, the two commanders engage one another in personal combat and Kim Kyung-Sohn astonishingly perseveres—keeping the hopes of a successful resistance alive for one more day.

Threads of Time Vol. 4

Having had both his body and his pride injured, Sali Tayi vows to deliver death to not only Kim Kyung-Sohn, but to his entire family as well. Locating the defenseless village of Keh Kung, the crazed Mongol general orders the rape and massacre of his opponent's household. Witnessing the brutality of her fellow soldiers, Atan Hadas begins to doubt the glorified honors of the Koryo conquest. Walking again in the woods outside Keh Kung, she is reunited with the equally pensive Moon Bin. Seeking to repay Moon Bin for his earlier assistance, Atan Hadas warns of the slaughter and counsels that he should flee the land and save himself. Unable to abandon his 13th Century family, Moon Bin returns to his home to find that everything he knew in this new reality has been destroyed...

WE SMASH THE ORGANIZED ARMIES OF THIS ACCURSED LAND, AND THE PEASANTS RISE LIKE SPLINTERS IN THE KAHN'S PATH.
SUCH RESISTANCE WE MET NEITHER IN THE GOLD KINGDOM NOR THE LOW-LANDS OF THE HORAZUM.
IN KORYO, EVEN MEN WHO HAVE WEATHERED FOUR SCORE WINTERS PICK UP THE SPEAR IN DEFENSE OF THE LAND
REPORTS SAY CHO ZUK IS LEADING THE PEOPLE IN ARMS AGAINST US.
ENOUGH!

KORYO IS DEFINITELY A COUNTRY APART FROM OUR OTHER CONQUESTS.
WE CAN ROUTE OR BRIBE THE LOCAL ARMIES, BUT EVERY PEASANT DEFIES FOREIGN RULE.
AT CHUNG ZHU, THE ARISTOCRATS FLED WHEN THE RUMOR OF CONFLICT REACHED THEIR EARS. THE PEOPLE, HOWEVER, TOOK ITS DEFENSE UPON THEMSELVES.

YOU CAN SAY I FORCED THE DECISION ON YOU, YOUNG MASTER.
AT LEAST THAT WAY YOU'LL BE ALIVE.

Threads of Time™

In Volume 6

The Mongol gift to General Kyung-Sohn Kim is answered with a weird scene of a necrophiliac oralsex. Or maybe not, I don't like to spoil like Tokypoop.

Anyways, I just realized few days ago that the TP rating for ToT is T (teens 13+)... That's stunning if one compares it to another series of their's.

Remote Worst stuff are un-needed pantyshots combined with ugly art. Rating M (mature 18+)

Telepathic Wanderers Lot's of female nudity (adults, not pedo), some sEim stuff, messing with the head. Rating OT (older teens 16+)

Threads of Time Lots of graphical violence including beheadings of women and children, continuous rapings of spoils of war, gangrape of a comatose girl, homosexual monks, SMOKING! Rating T (teens 13+)

Just brilliant.

Koryo Soldier Profile:

The warriors of Koryo were renowned for both their martial prowess and indomitable spirit. During the later years of the dynasty and amidst the Mongol invasions, historical accounts on both sides of the conflict praised their remarkable valor and effectiveness on the battlefield. After the Koryo leadership negotiated a vassalage status, the Mongol overlords conscripted tens-of-thousands of soldiers and several prominent generals from the Koryo ranks to bolster the Khan's ambitions of empire throughout the Far East.

Mongol Soldier Profile:

As the Mongol empire expanded to challenge the whole of the known world, their numbers were augmented by an endless variety of foreign mercenaries and tributary forces. The Mongols themselves, however, were mustered from small tribal clans united under the legendary Genghis Kahn. Honoring his namesake of "Universal Ruler," Genghis Khan's dominance resulted from a revolutionary tactical mind, a brutal standard of discipline and endurance for his soldiers, and a highly mobile army inspired by the nomadic history of his people.

Jinchi entities are infamous of their total disregard of US copyright laws. These entities do not care that they aren't just stealing from the Mangakas and Japanese publishing houses but also from US publishers.
The weapons of their choice are old and not so reliable CanoScan 670U and Adobe Photoshop CS.
